2.	What development have you observed in the student's skills, knowledge, personal and/or professional performance? During the internship term, Si Dien has shown significant development in several key areas. His basic knowledge of economics, organization, administration, and programme has deepened. Also, he has demonstrated a strong capacity for teamwork and collaboration with his colleagues.
3.	What do you consider to be the intern's strengths? Dien's primary strengths are his meticulous attentions to detail and his strong analytical skills, which are crucial for working with complex linguistic data. He is a quick learner, rapidly mastering the TS-based framework and consistently delivering accurate, well-documented contributions to project.
4.	In what areas does the intern need to improve? For his continued growth, Dien could benefit from developing greater independence in research, such as proposing novel approaches or experiments beyond the current scope. Additionally, enhancing his ability to present complex technical findings to a non-specialist audience would be a valuable skill for his career.
5.	Overall, how do you rate your experience with this intern	Excellent ✓	Good	Average	Poor
